

THE PIPELINE

LETTER FROM THE CHAIR

SAL ARENA

Summer is starting to wrap up, schools are back in session, and vacations are dwindling down. This month seems to be a bit more chaotic time than usual with Tropical Storm Fred passing through. I've already had to renavigate home due to down trees and lost power a couple times. Having lived through several tornadoes and hurricanes, I've stocked up on several standard supplies, and favorite drinks and snacks just in case. The CDC recommends that your kit consists of enough food, water, and medical supplies to last at least 72 hours in the event of severe weather. If you have additional power sources in your home, check that you have enough gas supply and that your equipment is functional before needing to use it. If you have pets, or family members you take care of, make sure you have any necessary supplies to assist with transporting them and/or keeping them comfortable.

In lighter news, I'm using this bad weather as an excuse to get back into reading, catching up on some movies, and getting into some board games. If you're interested in cold cases and puzzle solving, I'd recommend checking out the board game Unsolved Case Files! You're tasked to sort through various pieces of evidence to uncover the truth around what happened and prove what happened.

PROGRAMS

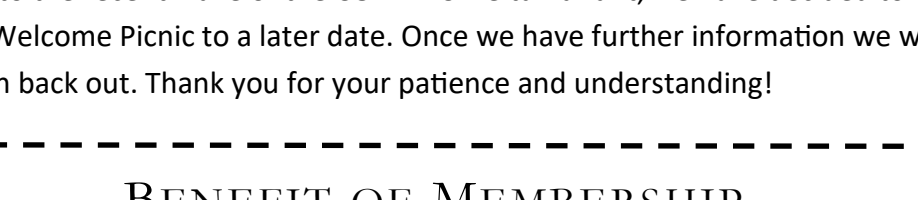

KELSEY NIEHOFF

In September we will resume our monthly programs. This fall we look forward to a set of interesting and diverse program topics. In September our guest speakers will be discussing "Water Supply & Rights". This topic will span the United States, as well as other countries. This program will discuss differences in water rights and touch on how to preserve water sources. We hope you will join us for the discussion.

Looking ahead into October, our October program will be eChemExpo. Attendee registration is now open for eChemExpo 2021, October 19-20 in Kingsport TN. Register Now! Exhibiting spots and a limited number of speaking positions are still open. The meeting theme has been updated to: NEW HORIZONS: Safely and Sustainably Innovate, Optimize and Grow!

While you wait for our fall programming to begin, if you are looking for continuing education opportunities browse AIChE Academy's courses, webinars, and videos .

If you have suggestions for future programs and/or would like to join the 2021 programming committee please contact Kelsey Niehoff at Kelsey.Niehoff@eastman.com.

Due to the recent wave of the COVID 19 Delta Variant, we have decided to delay the Welcome Picnic to a later date. Once we have further information we will reach back out. Thank you for your patience and understanding!

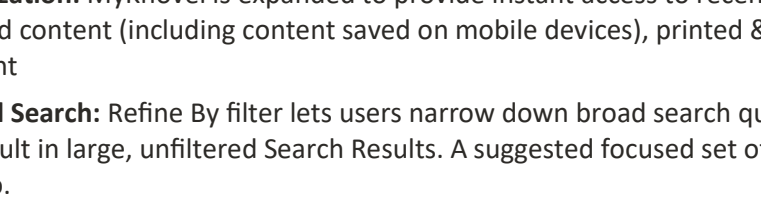

BENEFIT OF MEMBERSHIP

JENNIFER MIZE

eLibrary | AIChE

AIChE's eLibrary grants you access to more than 500 full textbooks, handbooks, standards, databases, video research tips, and presentations through Knovel Life Sciences and McGraw-Hill's AccessEngineering Library collections.

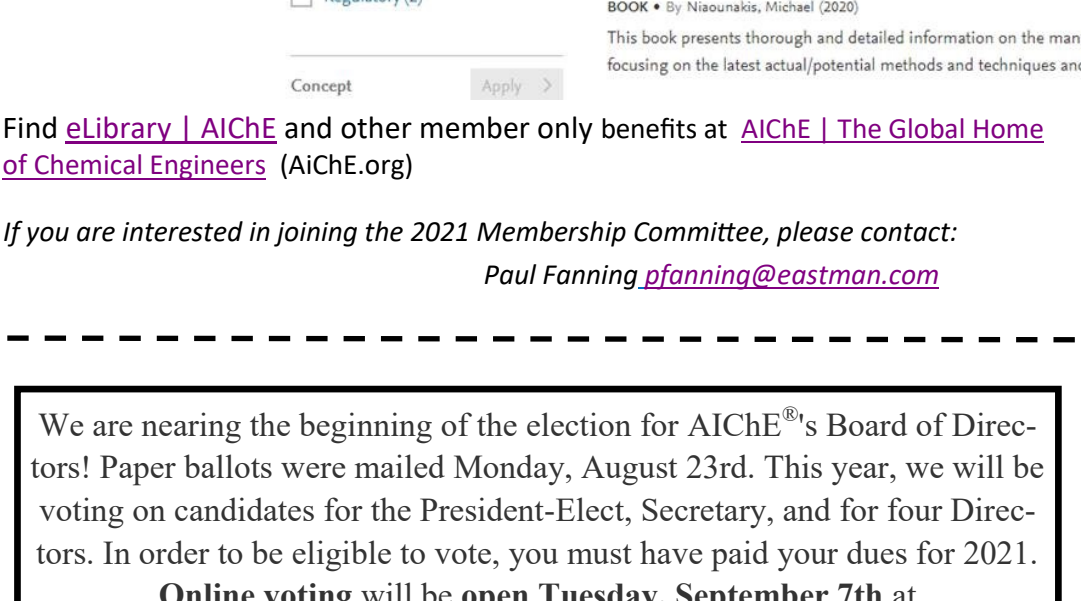

In addition to access to reference materials, the eLibrary provides a number of handy tools.

New updates include:

- Personalization: MyKnovel is expanded to provide instant access to recent searches & views, saved content (including content saved on mobile devices), printed & downloaded content
- Upgraded Search: Refine By filter lets users narrow down broad search queries that otherwise result in large, unfiltered Search Results. A suggested focused set of concepts is offered, too.
- Enhancements to Search: Auto-Suggest, New Content Type, and Definitions features refine search results and simplify access for those wanting a definition / encyclopedic entry for background information
- Content viewing: Now in HTML (previously in flash), with new Notes functionality to annotate text for easy review, search, and sharing with colleagues
- In-product guides: Simple to use in-product guides are available on each page to allow users, especially first-timers, to take full-advantage of all product capabilities
